AG 5800 End of Life Notice

Dear Nomadix Customer:

This notice is to inform you of the End of Life (EOL) date for the AG 5800 Gateway.

Foremost, allow us to confirm our continued commitment to high speed Internet access and bandwidth management technologies, exemplified by our family of Internet access gateway appliances, such as the AG5900, and deep-packet inspection appliances, such as the Alloc8 – X Series.

As Nomadix continues its focus on its gateway and deep packet inspection appliances by releasing newer technologies, we will continue to provide support for the AG 5800 model per the following applicable dates:

- Final date for premium support of the AG 5800– December 31, 2018
- Final date to obtain bug fixes to NSE firmware – December 31, 2018
- Final date to obtain optional keyed features – December 31, 2018
- Final date for hardware support, repair, and replacement – December 31, 2018

For periods beyond the EOL date we will continue to include technical support on a best effort basis with 24/7 web and call center access, excluding software upgrades or hardware replacement.

We look forward to an opportunity to provide continued support as outlined above and encourage you to consider the next generation AG 5900 model gateways. We invite you to visit our website at www.nomadix.com to review the next generation gateway, AG 5900 models, and access the currently available upgrade promotional details.

We value your business and thank you for your continued partnership.

Best regards,
